- Look!
- Did you see that?!
- Narrator: Like a bolt of lightning, it fell from the sky.
- It's crashed. And it's alive.
- It's still dormant. But it's approaching an active level rapidly.
- Narrator: A top secret experiment the military is desperate to hide.
- Maybe there's something inside.
- What's wrong?
- The project. It's waking up!
- (screaming)
- Stop it!
- I can't!
- It's designed to kill.
- But not innocent people! I want you to corner off that area. I don't want anybody getting through.
- Smells like the old government cover-up.
- It's been ruled an "accident".
- An accident?
- We lost the case.
- Narrator: Now it's multiplying one by one.
- We're onto something big, Jerry. I mean big.
- ...we gotta find it.
- Narrator: Jesus Christ.
- Jerry took one of those pods home with him.
- Narrator: Unleashing its deadly terror on everyone, and everything that stands in its path.
- Jesus Christ. What the hell is that?
- Narrator: To stop the madness, they must risk it all...for monster hunting.
- Damn it. It's bad news.
- Narrator: Can anything on Earth destroy this deadly invasion?
- (screams)
- Narrator: It's time to face your deepest fears. From Deep Space!
